To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of reference for Ms. Nelli Warren. Ms. Warren has been employed by Yireh since October 2004 and during this time has proven to be an exceptional teacher and counselor.

She teaches Junior and Senior Essay Writing, Provincial Preparation courses, as well as provides academic counseling. Her classes are always in great demand, for she has gained a highly favorable reputation in the Tri-city area.

Her students achieve great success; many of her past students currently attend distinguished universities in Canada or Ivy League universities in the United States.

Aside from her work with students, Ms. Nelli Warren has also written a curriculum titled The English Scholar: a guide to achieving academic excellence in writing and analysis. Her curriculum is currently in practice at Yireh and is being considered for publication overseas.

For all these reasons I give Ms. Nelli Warren my unreserved support.

Sincerely,

David Ko, MBA
